Tasting Note

Blindingly bright and steamed with sun. Like hard rain on a sunny day on a sunburn. Tongue piercing howl of radioactive rainbow mineral. It juts you, like a driving hazard; like a cobblestone puddle. So salty and funky its a total toe lick. Darkly lit calcium rich bricks inside of an old city church? More salt; bright cold sea foam in the distance. Pummels you with stone. Until your dead and need something to balance the salty acid.
